about SMF Fest

Sustainable Marine Fuel Fest was created with the clear intention of being more than 'just another maritime sustainability event'.

It's the only 'for industry, by industry' forum with a tangible outcome that we've collectively built & revisit from time to time – Sustainable Marine Fuel Confidence Index.

Leaders, movers & shakers across the marine fuel value system are meeting in Valencia this October for 1.5 intense but enjoyable days of discussion, debates & decisions - and we'd love to have you there too.

Intentionally designed to be a collaborative effort, this event brings the maritime value chain together in hosted small group discussions and targeted group activities in a purpose-designed environment that allows for genuine connections.

This means participants continue working together long beyond event days.

What do participants love about SMF Fest?

- “Such a special place where so many were able to share their expertise in a warm and supportive environment”
- “As an introvert, the small group format allowed me to hold my own, and then some”
- “Honest conversations aimed at understanding the fundamental issues & finding ways to navigate them”
- “An opportunity to have unfiltered discussions and meet different industry colleagues – not the usual suspects”

SMF Fest 2026, scheduled for 7-8 Oct in vibrant Valencia, will be the premier meeting place for 50-60 invited marine fuel leaders.

This unique gathering is now in its tenth year and has been supported by these organisations and more since its inception.
